Fur-Get Me Not

Furgetmenot.com

This fun house for pups near Four Mile Run opened nearly two decades ago as a pet-sitting business. Founder Tammy Rosen credits her own dog, Hunter, as the inspiration. "He was so photogenic," she says, still a bit misty-eyed as she nods toward an image of the beautiful golden retriever, who died in 2016. Today, the business is a family affair (Rosen's husband, Steve, came on board in 2010), and has expanded its services to include walking, training, boarding, doggie day care and in-home pet sitting. Make no bones about it, clients' tails are wagging. "Customers tell us that their dog loves coming here," Rosen says. "They just jump out of the car when they pull up." —Matt Blitz
